Fix A Place Inside A Station...

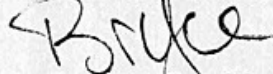

Well, well, well, a bo-day-schuss New Year to y'all/youse guys. I hope yer holidays were happy and such. Things were pretty quiet the weeks of Christmas & New Year's as we were off the air so DJs and staff could spend the break with their respective loved ones. And we had a more hellish time than usual getting back in gear. First, the car in which our illustrious PD, Brian Levy, was riding back in, blew a tire so vehemently the wheel went through the chassis and knocked the battery clean out of the damn car! Fortunately, no one was hurt, but Brian, and our new Spring semester schedule, had to spend an evening adjusting his attitude at a motel outside of Richmond, VA while the car was being fixed. Well, he finally got here (just a day late), and then we got hit by one the most thorough snowstorms NC has seen in a while. Now, most people would freely associate snow with "North," but few would do likewise with "Carolina." We got about 10 inches. They don't know what road salt is down here; they definitely don't know how to drive in snow. No buses; no DJs. Anyway, the snow's still here, but we're back on-the-air, and we be rockin' 24 hours a day!

That's our exciting nascent new year tale, but I hear tell while we were home sipping eggnog and scoping the mistletoe, a lot of you rep folk were playing musical labels. Now let me see...Michelle, formerly of Celluloid, is now with Rough Trade East Coast which is led by Nick, formerly of Relativity, and whose post has been ably filled, I'm sure by Liz, who used to be at AAM. And Jeff who used to be with TVT, has now hit the road as manager for one of all-time fave bands Too Much Joy. Lynn also left TVT to I forget where, and Rich and Hilaire have departed Big Time. Damn, just when I'd updated the rolodex; and I thought college radio had a high turnover!? Well, good luck to you all, where ever you are.

You may not know this, but this, our fifth year FM, is going to be WXDU's year! 88.7FM in '88! How do I know this, so early on? Well, for one thing, after years of wishful thinking, we finally got a computer (a 10MHz Leading Edge jobber with 20Mb hard disk that positively kicks butt). And I'm sitting here typing at 4am at the station listening to a 'XDU jock (who sounds as good as the ones on at 4pm) instead of some dweebs at the local computer room. And by months end, our translator kicks in, rebroadcasting a strong WXDU signal on campus at 90.7FM...

Also at the month's end, January 30, to be exact, we be doing our second annual year's end countdown feature, "The 88.7 Albums Of 1987." A marathon show/station party kinda event wherein we'll play a cut each from the 88.7 most played albums for the year here at WXDU. At countdown's end we'll give away listener's pick of ten albums to the 88.7th caller (last year we got 150 callers--I kid you not!). We also do numerous giveaways throughout the feature, so if you've got any '87 back issue product (new stuff, too) gathering dust, I'd be much obliged if you'd send it our way (T-shirts and posters welcome, too). They'll be as good as given away gone. Thanks! (Look for a list of the Top 88.7 with the next playlist in early February.)
